Here's an excellent image taken by Tom Nanos, certainly a different take on this angle of view.

This interesting photo by Nick Palazini shows Rick Cizik hard at work doing some night repair work on Steam No. 10 just outside the Columbia Junction Roundhouse.

Letter-Boxing Alive & Well at Museum

By Janet Adkins

The seven or more letterboxes at the museum have been updated and replaced at various sites within the museum. Come and enjoy the adventure of finding the boxes through clues and stamping your journal with our unique impressions.

Access to the clues can be accessed on the internet website at – www.letterboxing.org or through the CERM web page –

Summer 2009

www.cteastrrmuseum.org/letterboxing.html

Once again we thank Sandra Listori and her husband for designing the stamps and placing the boxes. And yet – here is another way everyone can enjoy a fine museum. (Note from Editor – I just went to the website and read all the clues – WOW! Now I can't wait to get over to the museum.)

Parking Lot Color Explosion

By Janet Adkins

You can't miss the parking lot improvements this spring and summer. Flowers have been coming into bloom on a regular basis since April. Come on camera buffs here's your chance to get nice close ups and some with bees on them. Please be careful. Slowly we are learning the tastes of our resident deer and we shall have great gardens in another year or two. We anticipate the burning bushes brought in from Manchester last fall will have exceptional color come September. Thank you to all who have contributed and continue to contribute plant stock. Our parking lot is making a difference to the entrance of the museum. If you have plant stock to donate – please call Janet at 860-423-5930.

Chapter's New Key Policy

By Mark Granville

The Chapter has decided to change the locks at the museum. Over the past fifteen years, many members with keys have become inactive, dropped their membership, or have moved away without returning their key. The complexity of the current key system has made it virtually impossible to get new keys that work and many members have expressed concern over the lack of security and inaccurate list of people who have keys.

Three steps were discussed at the July business meeting to help us avoid this problem in the future: (1) Have members sign a memorandum of agreement when receiving a new key; (2) Collect a deposit of $35 for the key; and (3) Have key recipients approved by the executive committee (the current policy). We will finalize our key policy at the July membership meeting.
