Museum Opens 05/02/2015

While we are thinking about where to put all this snow please remember opening day is less than two months away.

Two big events are planned so far this year with others in the works. Please keep an eye on our Face Book page for all the updated photos and announcements. No, you don't need to a member to see Facebook – just Google 'Connecticut Eastern Railroad Museum' and it will direct you to the right place. Keep checking for photo updates and other info.

Also please remember our museum is only as good as its members. If you have any special skills you'd like to share please contact us. The more help we get the smoother our events will go. So, when you want to be a part of railroad history in any capacity, stop by, check us out, and get on track to give us your expertise. – Editor

This is it – we are less than 2 months away from opening day. We will everyone to help us to another successful opening day. This starts our 2015 season – let's try to make it better than last year. Food and drink available for purchase, a music venue is being planned as I write this. The blacksmiths will be coming to show us and demonstrate what they can make and do. The Rutland Caboose #40 will be open so all can see what railroading was like when the caboose was the command post on every long haul and way freight that travelled the rails all over the US. Come and see the great progress on the CV #4052 caboose, it is nearing completion. Trains will

Anybody seen the Air Line tracks recently? Remember to stop by Opening Day – May 2nd and you should see these tracks for yourself. (Robert A. LaMay Photo)

Remember – Metalfest – Saturday May 2, 2015. The snow will be gone. The coals will be hot! The blacksmiths will be busy. Come see the work! (R.A. LaMay Photo)

Historic Paperwork

By Adrian Atkins

One of the Chapter's objectives is to 'Preserve Railroad History.' While we are doing pretty well at this in some areas, we have not been doing much with the old musty paperwork trail. Through the years we have received many donations of old records, photos, and other historic documentation. They are coming out of damp and musty attics, basements, and garages with the appropriate odors. We do not have them in a climate controlled facility to properly safeguard the artifacts and we will not have these at any time in the foreseeable future. This means we are going to permit them to self destruct while in our possession.

While many of us have tried to do something in the past, Bob Hassett decided this situation needed to be managed now! He also decided that with the weather being what was (this) winter; it might be good idea to have the week-day crew tackle this project. Cliff Lund made arrangements that we could utilize the warm conference room at Sumner & Sumner to work on this project.

Bob Hassett arranged to have Laura Smith, Archivist with the UCONN Library, meet with us for a crash course on preserving historical records. She suggested starting a CERM Collection at the Dodd Research Center. She would sort out what we gave her and preserve those items and return the unwanted material to us. We could add to this collection as time goes on, but we could not take anything back once it was donated. At the time, we had 3 trunkfuls of old paperwork from the Plainfield area.

The topic was discussed at our General Business Meeting on March 3, 2015, and it was decided to follow the suggestions laid out by Laura Smith, regarding the subject of starting a CERM Collection. This way the material will be preserved for all interested parties.

We are now preparing the material for the initial donation. This is from materials we have at the museum. In the future we will examine materials stored at the Windham Textile & History Museum. We also have materials graciously stored in member's homes, attics, cellars and other outbuildings. If you have materials please contact Bob Hassett at 860-989-6029. We need to preserve the material but also make it readily available

Laura has offered to attend one of our meetings and describe the Dodd Research Center operation and discuss how we can best match our areas of expertise. Bob is arranging this schedule.

I purchased a 35mm slide at the Jersey Central Railroad show – it shows Rutland RR Caboose #28 at Steamtown at Scranton, PA. Built in 1920 and is 3" shorter than the number 40. Also note the truss rods and the logo 'Route of the Whippet'.
